GREEN BAY PACKERS

INTEL REPORT

2026 training camp edition — two torn ACLs headline camp, and the roster around Jordan Love may be the best in the NFC once they heal.

HEAD COACH	GENERAL MANAGER	QB1	ACL REHABS	OPENS ON PUP

◆ FRONT OFFICE & LEADERSHIP

- ◆ Continuity at the top. Matt LaFleur and GM Brian Gutekunst both return, and Gutekunst spent the offseason patching the two units that failed Green Bay in 2025: the interior defensive line and the offensive line.
- ◆ Gutekunst on the rehabs: Tucker Kraft is slightly ahead of schedule and Micah Parsons is progressing quickly — the GM's own framing heading into camp.
- ◆ Roster math. With Parsons expected to open on PUP, Green Bay gets a free 53-man spot early — a dilemma insiders have flagged as a real edge in a deep front seven.

◆ TRADES & MAJOR TRANSACTIONS

- ◆ TRADE Zaire Franklin, LB acquired to replace Quay Walker, who left in free agency — a direct swap of tackling production at a position of need.
- ◆ SIGNED Javon Hargrave, DT — the veteran presence Green Bay wanted on a defensive front that could not stop the run.
- ◆ RE-SIGNED WR Bo Melton and G Donovan Jennings in April.
- ◆ DRAFT DT Chris McClellan in the third round — more interior help. Five draft picks and 10 rookie free agents signed May 1.
- ◆ LOST LB Quay Walker departed in free agency.

◆ RUMOR MILL

- ◆ SPECULATION National projections have Green Bay as a top-tier NFC roster the moment Parsons and Kraft are back — which is also the argument that the season turns entirely on Jordan Love's play in the meantime.
- ◆ SPECULATION Rotational defensive linemen are the roster bubble to watch; run defense was the stated reason the depth chart changed.

◆ PLAYER UPDATES & CAMP BATTLES

- ◆ Micah Parsons, EDGE. Torn ACL against Denver. LaFleur said he'd begin camp on PUP, and Parsons himself expects to miss the first three or four games.
- ◆ Tucker Kraft, TE. Torn ACL in Week 9 vs. Carolina. Kraft insists he'll play Week 1 with no restricted workload — and the front office says he's ahead of schedule.
- ◆ Zach Tom, RT. The Packers call him their best offensive lineman. He played through injuries, shut it down for the final four games, had knee surgery to repair a partially torn patellar tendon, and did not practice this spring. His return is the key to settling a line that struggled.
- ◆ Jordan Love, QB. Underlying numbers point to a monster season if the supporting cast holds — the roster is built for it.
- ◆ Javon Hargrave, DT. Signed to fix a run defense that leaked all season; pairs with rookie Chris McClellan inside.
- ◆ Bubble watch. Several rotational defensive linemen must perform in camp to keep roster spots after the depth-chart shakeup.

◆ THE BOTTOM LINE

Green Bay's 2026 is a health story before it's anything else. The roster — with Parsons and Kraft back — is arguably the NFC's deepest, but Parsons has already put a three-to-four-game absence on the record and Zach Tom hasn't practiced since knee surgery. The front office response was targeted rather than splashy: Franklin for Walker, Hargrave and a third-round tackle for a run defense that couldn't hold up. Survive September, and the back half of this schedule looks very different.
