

WASHINGTON COMMANDERS INTEL REPORT

2026 training camp edition — two first-time coordinators, $100M spent on the edge, and a healthy Jayden Daniels asked to run a different offense.

|-------------|------------|--------------|---------------|---------------------|
| 5-12        | Dan Quinn  | David Blough | Daronte Jones | 4                   |
| 2025 RECORD | HEAD COACH | NEW OC       | NEW DC        | DANIELS' FULL GAMES |

◆ FRONT OFFICE & LEADERSHIP

- ◆ Both coordinators replaced. Quinn promoted assistant QB coach David Blough to offensive coordinator (Kliff Kingsbury left for the Rams) and hired ex-Vikings pass game coordinator Daronte Jones as DC, replacing Joe Whitt Jr.
- ◆ Two first-time NFL play-callers. Neither Blough nor Jones has called plays in the league; Jones has one year of coordinator experience at LSU. National coverage has framed these as genuine gambles — Quinn has publicly stood firm on both.
- ◆ RUMOR Quinn's own seat. After a 5-12 collapse, hot-seat chatter has followed him into camp. A third straight uneven season with hand-picked, unproven coordinators would be difficult to explain.
- ◆ The scheme shift. Blough's offense leans on more under-center play-action — a real departure from the shotgun-heavy attack Daniels ran as a rookie.

◆ TRADES & MAJOR TRANSACTIONS

- ◆ SIGNED Odafe Oweh, EDGE — four years, $100M. The largest commitment of the offseason and the anchor of a rebuilt pass rush.
- ◆ SIGNED DT Tim Settle Jr. (3 yr / $24M), LB Leo Chenal, S Nick Cross, CB Amik Robertson; EDGE Dorance Armstrong brought back.
- ◆ SIGNED TE Chig Okonkwo and RB Rachaad White; WR Treyton Burks re-signed.
- ◆ DRAFT WR Antonio Williams added to a receiver room that needed young legs.
- ◆ LOST WR Deebo Samuel allowed to walk after one season; RB Austin Ekeler not re-signed; TE Zach Ertz departed.

◆ PLAYER UPDATES & CAMP BATTLES

- ◆ Jayden Daniels, QB. The 2024 Offensive Rookie of the Year lost 2025 to a cascade of injuries — knee sprain, hamstring strain, and a dislocated elbow that ended his season. He played only four full games. Spring and summer reports have been encouraging: comfortable, moving well, back in sync with Terry McLaurin.
- ◆ The adjustment. Daniels' transition to Blough's under-center, play-action-heavy system is the single most important variable in Washington's season.
- ◆ Odafe Oweh, EDGE. $100M says the pass rush is now his responsibility. Paired with Armstrong and Settle inside, the front is unrecognizable from 2025.
- ◆ Terry McLaurin, WR. Still the offense's anchor, and the chemistry reports with a healthy Daniels are the most positive signal out of the spring.
- ◆ Receiver room, reset. With Samuel gone, rookie Antonio Williams and re-signed Treyton Burks compete for snaps behind McLaurin.
- ◆ Backfield, reset. Rachaad White replaces Ekeler as the veteran presence.

◆ THE BOTTOM LINE

Washington's 2025 was a health story disguised as a collapse — four full games from Jayden Daniels and a 5-12 finish. The fix was money on defense (Oweh's $100M leading a rebuilt front) and a philosophical reset on offense. The risk is concentrated in one place: Dan Quinn handed both play-calling jobs to men who have never held them in the NFL, in a year his own seat is being discussed. A healthy Daniels makes it look bold. Anything less makes it look like the last decision he gets to make.
